

1.

Question 1

What is the result of the following: `Name[0]`

Name= "Michael Jackson"

M	i	c	h	a	e	l		J	a	c	k	s	o	n
0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14

1 / 1 point

"n"

"i"

"M"

ANSWER: (C) "M"

Correct

correct, The index 0 corresponds to the first index

2.

Question 2

What is the result of the following: `Name[-1]`

Name= "Michael Jackson"

M	i	c	h	a	e	l		J	a	c	k	s	o	n
0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14

1 / 1 point

"n"

"o"

"M"

ANSWER: (A) "n"

Correct

correct, the index -1 corresponds to the last index

3.

Question 3

What is the output of the following: `print("AB\nC\nDE")`

1 / 1 point

ABC

DE AB

CD

E
AB

C

DE

ANSWER: (C) AB

C

DE

Correct

correct when the print function encounters a \n it displays a new line

4.

Question 4

What is the result of following?

```
"hello Mike".find("Mike")
```

If you are unsure, copy and paste the code into Jupyter Notebook and check.

1 / 1 point

6

5

6,7,8

ANSWER : (A)6

Correct

correct, the method finds the starting index of a substring